FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

'ITO America' Confirms Robert Carter, FedEx, to be Highlighted in Upcoming Issue

April 14, 2008- 'ITO America' continues to be the most successful I.T. publication in its class. The ITO mission is driven to deliver top-line technology issues that CIO's strive to stay ahead on and the content of the upcoming June issue will further support that goal. ITO is proud to confirm that Robert Carter, Executive Vice President and Chief Information Officer, FedEx, will be featured in the Q2 issue of the magazine.

"Robert Carter is a name in I.T. everybody knows. FedEx have made significant innovative changes throughout their I.T. and divisional businesses for many years and Bob has been steering the ship in the right direction," said Glenn Willis, Publisher-in-Chief, 'ITO America'.

Carter is also a seasoned a veteran of FedEx's technology with years of I.T. experience under his belt. He took on the positions of Executive Vice President and Chief Information Officer in January 2007 and also wears the hat of CEO, FedEx- Kinko's. Carter is a member of the five-person Executive Committee, which plans and executes the corporation's strategic business activities and some key responsibilities include setting technology direction as well as the corporation's key applications/technology infrastructure.

Some of Carter's professional awards include: Information Week Chief of the Year Award (2000, 2001, and 2005) as well as InfoWorld Chief Technology Officer of the Year (2000). Robert Carter has been recognized for expanding FedEx's e-commerce efforts to an international level and led several other major moves into next-generation technologies that enrich the company's electronic connections to its customers.

As far as other content to be present in the June issue of 'ITO America', Glenn Willis assures an extensive level of hard-hitting Business Technology issues such as Web 3.0, Green I.T. and with a specific focus on I.T. Innovation this plans to be one of the best yet.

'ITO continues to be the one place a CIO can turn to, to gather useful information from their peers on the most up to date topics and issues that keeps them awake at night' said Willis in a further statement.'
