FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ITO America.com Welcomes Bill Boni, CISO, Motorola, as an Exclusive Contributor

June 17, 2008- The driving force of ITO America is to provide IT business executives with the most accurate, current and valuable information. This drive to innovate technology and stand out as a resource in today's enterprise has made ITO America an attractive force to many superior executives. ITO America is proud to announce that Mr. William Boni, CISO, Motorola is the latest industry professional to become an ITO contributor.

William "Bill" Boni has spent much of his professional career as an information protection specialist and has assisted major organizations in both the public and private sectors. Currently, Bill Boni is the Corporate VP and CISO of Motorola Information Protection Services. In this role, Bill's key responsibilities are to oversee security for a global network supporting some 100,000 end-users. He also directs the people, processes and technology programs that safeguard the company's global network, computer systems and electronic business initiatives.

As an ITO contributor, Boni will offer ITOAmerica.com's 132,000+ visitors (monthly) unique insight into the challenges and solutions an executive faces whilst ensuring IT security and integrity. Boni's focuses will include next generation security vulnerabilities in growing virtualized environments and Web 2.0 applications.

Glenn Willis, Publisher-in-Chief, ITO America, is delighted to have Bill Boni as a part of the editorial committee for the upcoming edition. Said Willis, "Bill's role (in the next edition) is highly complex as Motorola is a pure play mobility vendor. To gain customer confidence and contrive their success in this sector, Bill's role is absolutely critical."
