FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Open Text Shares Healthcare Content Management Resources and Announces EMR/EHR Webinar Details

February 26, 2010- CDM Media is pleased to announce that Open Text, the leader in Enterprise Content Management solutions, will share their resources with CDM Media's healthcare community. All new Open Text content management resources will be found in a custom solution center hosted by CDM Media. Open Text executives Bob Caldwell, GM, Healthcare Solutions, and Joe Stewart, Transactional Document Management & Imaging (Americas) will participate in an upcoming webinar on EMR/EHR solutions with Peter Waegemann, VP, mHealth Initiatives, March 30, 2010 at 2pm EDT.

The Open Text solution center features whitepapers, case studies, brochures, podcasts and videos on healthcare content management solutions. The latest content includes "Enterprise Content Management: Creating Value from Content," "Addressing the Needs of the Healthcare Organization," and "Your Rx for Unstructured Content – Mayo Health Systems." The content on the solution center will be updated frequently and will include pertinent information on content management solutions for IT executives.

CDM Media will also host a live and interactive webinar, "Getting the Most From Your EMR/EHR Solutions" on Tuesday, March 30, 2010, 2pm EDT. Peter Waegemann, VP, mHealth Initiative, a non-profit organization that envisions the development of interoperability solutions for essential health information; Bob Caldwell, GM Healthcare Solutions, Open Text; and Joe Stewart, Transactional Document Management & Imaging (Americas), Open Text will all be participating in the webinar. The webinar will address the critical components of EMR/EHR solutions as they relate to healthcare organizations. To register for the webinar please visit, <https://www2.gotomeeting.com/register/586583203>. A recording of this webinar will be available on demand at the beginning of April.
