FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CIO Government Summit Welcomes Attendees from Cook County, Illinois and Cuyahoga County, Ohio

April 26, 2010 – The CIO Government Summit team is pleased to announce that Steve Edmonson, CIO, Cook County, Illinois and Dan Weaver, CTO, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, which includes the city of Cleveland, are scheduled to attend the upcoming event on May 23-26, 2010.

The CIO Government Summit is an opportunity for CIOs, CTOs and IT executives to network and discuss the latest IT trends and challenges affecting the government sector, including how to successfully and cost effectively utilize cloud computing, how technology can be used to create a more transparent government and how to manage information to achieve better performance. These topics and more will be discussed during keynotes, panel discussions, executive think-tanks, and case studies.

"The agenda sessions and the discussions surrounding these sessions are what make the CIO Government Summit truly valuable to our attendees. With representatives from Cook County, Illinois and Cuyahoga County, Ohio, the event is sure to include meaningful discussions that not only look at IT problems, but discover solutions to the technology issues that these executives faces on a daily basis," said Mark Southam, Event Director, CIO Government Summit.

Held over the course of three days, the CIO Government Summit will take place at the InterContinental Montelucia Resort in Scotsdale, Arizona. The venue provides a relaxed, yet focused business environment.

If you are interested in participating in the CIO Government Summit, please contact Mark Southam at 808-694-3654 or mark.southam@cdmmedia.com. Several opportunities remain to reach this exclusive audience of government sector CIOs and IT executives.
